About Me

I am deeply passionate about web development and love creating meaningful digital experiences. My interest in full stack development drives me to constantly learn, explore new ideas, and take on challenging projects. I am excited to build innovative solutions that make a real difference and to grow every day in this dynamic field.

Projects

Fashion Recommendation And Price Comparison

Functionality :

- Collects user info before accessing the app and stores it in MongoDB.
- Users upload a fashion product image to find similar products.
- The app uses a CNN model to find visually similar products.
- Shows 10 recommended items with prices, ratings, and buy links.
- Fetches real-time price and rating from Flipkart (via BeautifulSoup).
- Compares product prices across Flipkart, Amazon, and Myntra.
- Uses Dash, Bootstrap, and custom CSS for an attractive user interface.

Online Food Ordering System

Functionality :

- Built a responsive Online Food Ordering System using HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, Java, and SQL.
- Developed secure user login, signup, and profile management feature
- Created dynamic menus and order placement functionality with Java (Servlets/JSP).
- Designed an admin panel for managing restaurants, menus, and orders.
- Integrated SQL database for storing user, food, and order information.
- Ensured mobile-friendly UI for a smooth user experience.
